2021 ANNUAL REPORT

2021 ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE HERITAGE PRESERVATION COMMISSION

This publication is the Annual Report for the Minneapolis Heritage Preservation Commission (HPC) for its fiscal year October 1, 2020-September 30, 2021. It has been prepared according to the guidelines outlined in "Procedures for Applying for and Maintaining Certified Local Government Status (CLG)." CLG status is administered by the Minnesota State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) for the National Park Service. Each year, the HPC applies for CLG grants through the SHPO. HERITAGE PRESERVATION FILES AND INVENTORY

Community Planning and Economic Development (CPED) is located in room #320 of the Public Service Building, 505 4th Avenue South, and retains landmark and historic district nominations for properties in the city as well as inventory and other research files for other potentially historic properties. Some of these materials are in survey form and typically contain brief descriptions of the resource or building, an approximate date of construction, a statement of significance, and a photograph. For locally designated properties, CPED maintains records on land use applications that have either gone before the HPC for approval or have been reviewed administratively. There is also a collection of books maintained on the history of Minneapolis.

RESEARCH AND CONTACTS

Normally, survey and research information is available to the public during business hours. During the COVID pandemic, access to these items have been restricted. Those interested in researching any potential or known historic resource are encouraged to call for an appointment with CPED staff to discuss their specific needs or to view the HPC collection.

HERITAGE PRESERVATION COMMISSION

Created in 1971, the Heritage Preservation Commission (HPC) is a ten-member commission comprised of persons living within the City of Minneapolis who possess a demonstrated interest, as well as professional experience and expertise, in preservation work.

ANNUAL STATEWIDE HISTORIC PRESERVATION CONFERENCE - VIRTUAL

During the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, Minnesota's annual Statewide Historic Preservation Conference was conducted online between September 14th and 17th and hosted for the second year in a row by the City of Stillwater. Attendees viewed sessions remotely and smoothly via the Webex platform. Sessions included such topics as design guidelines, climate change, underwater archaeology, evaluating alternative materials, preserving the galaxy of black landmarks; context studies, and sustainability. Commissioner Barbara Howard made a presentation on preserving the recent past and CPED's Jason Wittenberg presented at a session on the City of Minneapolis' music context statement. CPED Staff John Smoley attended as well.

DESIGNATIONS

This year CPED completed three (3) designation studies.

LOCAL INDIVIDUAL LANDMARK DESIGNATION STUDIES

TYLER STREET NORTHEAST JOHN COOK HOUSE

948 18TH Ave NE

DESIGNATION: April 3, 2021

The Tyler St NE John Cook House is significant for architecture, and emblematic of social trends and development patterns of Northeast Minneapolis in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century. The building was completed on the corner of Tyler Street NE and 18th Avenue NE in 1889, built by John Cook, a local mason, in the Queen Anne style. The building is a significant, intact local example of masonry-clad Queen Anne dwelling, retaining notable areas of original wood features, and characteristic cream brick with red brick and stone for accent, which includes prominent quoins. This type of polychromatic masonry variation is rare in Minneapolis and represents a significant local example of a mason-built Queen Anne home. A side elevation addition, completed in 1906, continued the property's use as a multi-family dwelling. Indicative of the social history of Northeast Minneapolis, the property historically served as a multiple-family housing option, near key commercial and transit corridors, for people of various ethnic backgrounds and immigrant groups. Turn of the century residents of the building were commonly working-class employees of Eastside Minneapolis businesses such as Northrup King & Co., Aaron Carlson Corp., Pillsbury Mills, and the Minneapolis Furniture Company.

COMO AVENUE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

1035 14TH Ave SE

DESIGNATION DENIED: July 31, 2021

The Como Avenue Congregational Church was studied for landmark designation and found to be not eligible. The 1886 building was originally designed by Charles Sedgwick and acted as a worship space and community meeting location for the Como neighborhood for much of its existence. The building was historically clad in brick with decorative wood cladding, including shingles. The building no longer includes these elements and the Designation Study concluded the building does not retain sufficient integrity or significance to be considered for landmark designation. Although the study was helpful to uncover the full story of the site, and while the building appears to be valued by residents of the Como neighborhood, the property does not meet relevant criteria, or retain integrity, to be considered for landmark designation. The designation was denied by the Heritage Preservation Commission, with that decision upheld by City Council.

LOCAL HISTORIC DISTRICT DESIGNATION STUDIES

MARY LOCHREN STUDENT ROOMING HOMES HISTORIC DISTRICT

1103 4th St SE, 406 11th Ave SE, 410 11th Ave SE
DESIGNATION: April 24, 2021

The Mary Lochren Student Rooming Homes Historic District consists of three properties located at the corner of 4th Street SE and 11th Avenue SE in the residential Dinkytown area of the Marcy-Holmes Neighborhood. The dwellings are significant as a collection of homes designed by master architect, William Kenyon, and for their association to social trends and neighborhood identity. The buildings retained rooming house use, accommodating the student and University population which reflects historic housing trends that are characteristic of the Dinkytown area. The dwellings are a significant collection of Kenyon's design palette at the time, each showing a different style he employed—Colonial Revival, Queen Anne, and Shingle Style—albeit more simplified in execution than Kenyon's more extravagant single-family home designs for upper class Minneapolitans. The three homes were built in 1901 for Mary Lochren, the wife of Judge William Lochren. Records support Mary Lochren owned and managed the corner properties from their construction to near her death in the 1940s, minimally changing the dwellings' designs. During this time, the properties were home to a variety of students and University-affiliated persons of many groups. The homes remain as a student housing option to this day, and retain good historic integrity to their original form. The designation helps to tell a more complete story of housing for University of Minnesota students and associated residents, women's roles in property ownership, and tenant history in Minneapolis.

DESIGN GUIDELINES

This year CPED completed one (1) set of design guidelines for the Lynnhurst Residential Historic District.

INCENTIVES

This year CPED updated its Heritage Preservation Regulations to incorporate a new incentive to preserve historic properties: short term rental waivers. Initiated by Ward 7 Council Member Lisa Goodman, this new incentive allows the Planning Director (who oversees the preservation of historic properties) and the Director of Regulatory Services (who oversees residential rental licensing) to permit landmark buildings to depart from the requirements of Title 12, section 244.1845 of the City Code of Ordinances when the reuse is compatible with the preservation of the property and with other properties in the area. The number of short-term rental dwelling units authorized through the waiver must comprise no more than fifty (50) percent in relation to the total dwelling units in the building. The standard maximum is typically one unit or 10% of the units in the building, depending upon the number of units in the building.

GRANT PROJECTS

CLG GRANT: In FY 2021 CPED applied for, and was awarded, a $20,000 Certified Local Government Grant to identify contributing resources in the Washburn-Fair Oaks Historic District. A request for proposals to hire a consultant to conduct the work will be issued in October 2021, with work scheduled to be completed in the first half of 2022.

AFRICAN AMERICAN CULTURAL HERITAGE ACTION FUND GRANT: In July 2020, CPED was awarded $50,000 from the National Trust for Historic Preservation to conduct citywide community engagement for an African American Historic Context Study. In 2021, the City selected the consultant team of Lange Johnson Development, Equity Strategies, and the 106 Group to complete the work. The project is underway, and the inaugural virtual community meeting is scheduled to be held in October 2021.

LEGACY GRANT: In 2021, CPED was awarded a Legacy Grant from the Minnesota Historical and Cultural Heritage Grant Program in the amount of $10,000. The grant money is being used to draft a Designation Study for the Fire Station No. 24 building located at 4501 Hiawatha Ave, nominated for its status as the only known all-African American staffed fire station in city history. The property, built in 1907, appears to hold significance in the areas of Civil Rights of Minneapolitans of color and its role in the advancement for employment and social equity within community and institutional spaces, specifically the Minneapolis Fire Department. CPED has retained the 106 Group to complete the work, two virtual community meetings have been conducted, and review of the Designation Study draft has begun as of October 2021.

NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES NOMINATIONS

The HPC commented favorably on the following NRHP nominations:

Northrup, King & Company Complex 1500 Jackson ST NE

The Northrup, King & Company Complex is historically significant under National Register Criteria A, for Industry, for its contributions to seed trade in the twentieth century. As an eleven-acre city parcel comprised of six buildings and grain silos built between 1916 and 1947, the subject property holds significance as the office and manufacturing space for the Northrup, King & Company, which grew to become the country's largest wholesale seed facility.

J.I. Case Building 233 Park Ave

The J. I. Case Building is locally significant under National Register Criterion A for its role in commerce and community planning. The Case company's impact upon national commerce is readily evident in the ongoing proliferation of the company's massive red farm machinery throughout rural America. For one half century the subject property served as the Case company's regional marketing and distribution headquarters. The entire block is an example of a private redevelopment spurred by a former mayor to eliminate blight and spread Minneapolis' farm implement industry further south of the Warehouse District. The Case building's construction demolished the courtyard of Fish Alley, a notorious hub for persistent criminal activity. While earlier redevelopment on other parts of this block had weakened the alley's influence, it took the Case project to eliminate it completely.

Calvary Baptist Church 2608 Blaisdell Ave S

Calvary Baptist Church is historically significant under National Register Criterion C, for Architecture, for its local significance as an example of an intact Romanesque Revival church designed by Warren H. Hayes and Harry Wild Jones. The building is also an example of the pinnacle of Hayes' skill as a fully formed interpretation of the Romanesque Revival style. The building is already designated as a local landmark by the City of Minneapolis.

Alano Society of Minneapolis Clubhouse 2218 1st Ave S

The Alano Society of Minneapolis Clubhouse is locally significant under Criterion A in the area of Social History as the headquarters of the most influential chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) in the State of Minnesota. Formed in 1941, the original Minneapolis chapter of AA (known as Minneapolis 2218) was not only the state's first chapter of AA, but also acted as an incubator for numerous chapters in the metropolitan region. The clubhouse at 2218 1st Avenue South also acted as an information hub for AA chapters in the greater Minneapolis area. Through its members' engagement with alcoholics in Minneapolis and the surrounding region, Minneapolis 2218's influence extended beyond its members and AA itself to the broader community.

PERMITS AND DESIGN REVIEW

The Minneapolis Heritage Preservation Ordinance requires the HPC and CPED staff to review alterations to landmarks, properties within historic districts, and properties under interim protection. Additionally, the ordinance requires CPED staff to review all wrecking and moving permits prior to issuance by the City to determine whether the affected property is a historic resource. If CPED staff determines that the property is a historic resource, the demolition requires approval by the HPC.

CERTIFICATES OF APPROPRIATENESS

The HPC reviewed 21 Certificate of Appropriateness applications.

HISTORIC VARIANCES

The HPC reviewed zero Historic Variance applications.

APPEAL OF THE PLANNING DIRECTOR

The BIHZ Committee did not review any appeals of the Planning Director.

APPEAL OF THE HERITAGE PRESERVATION COMMISSION
